Subject: Microsoft settlement

I think that this entire law suit is only because a few companies did not want competition and got in bed with the last administration. That aside, the Justice Department worked out a settlement that would help many children in this country. To give millions of people a few dollars is not an impact and by the time that money would get to the same poor schools it would be ten cents on the dollar. We need to move forward in this country and it is things like this Judge's ruling that will put this country into a real depression. I say move forward. This decision disapoints me, I know the Justice spent millions of our tax money to get here and now will spend even more if it has to go forward in a different direction....Chuck Burr
